Houseful of Lovers, Too Much For Callahan So He Cleans Them Out.

The case of Michael Callahan of 1304 Seaview avenue, was before Judge Frederic A. Bartlett for disposition, today, and created great interest.

Callahan has three pretty daughters ranging from 16 to 24 years of age. Of course they have lovers. Between burning the gas until all hours of the night and cooing love songs, the lovers became an annoyance to Callahan and last night he decided to clear house soon after 8 o'clock.

Callahan first entered the dining room where George was cooling with Alice and he put George out without much trouble. He then sauntered into the sitting room, where Jack was relating love dreams to Mabel. Callahan soon got rid of this annoyance, but he met his Waterloo when he endeavored to eject Charley Hunt of 403 Wells street, who was spooning with Marion. Hunt refused to be ejected and Callahan broke an iron shoe last over the young lover's head.

In city court today the family placed all the blame upon Callahan and as he has been probated several times Judge Bartlett was tempted to sentence him to jail. However, he was again placed in care of Probation Officer C. W. Simpson with a sentence of six months in jail to be served if he again violates his probation.

Members of the German legation staff occupied prominent seats in the hall but most of the audience was composed of Copenhagen residents, including a large number of students.

When Bjornson rose to speak the audience sang and shouted, declaring its willingness to listen to a German but not to a citizen of a neutral country. After striving vainly for an hour to restore order the chairman declared the meeting closed without Bjornson having spoken.

Rugs and their prices get squeezed

First of all the many joy-things for the holidays to hurry forward, will be the toys.

Next week they claim all the space on the third floor now owned by the rugs.

How fine that is going to be for toys! and for folks who love toys!

But it isn't fine at all for the rugs. They simply must squeeze themselves into smaller space.

That squeezing begins right now—and the prices are squeezed first because we would rather sell rugs than move them into new smaller quarters.

Will you note well these prices and remember that the values given as regular are this store's usual prices for the very same sort of rugs.

Whittall's Body Brussels rugs, two-tone and Oriental patterns, 9 by 12 ft, regular $29—$25.

Steuben seamless heavy Axminster rugs; two-toned brown and rose, Oriental copper and rose shades, Oriental rose and brown tones: 9 by 12 ft, regular $29—$25 8 1/4 by 10 1/2 ft, reg. $26—$22

Good firm soft Axminster rugs in handsome flowered and Oriental patterns, 9 by 12 ft, regular $18.50—$15. Seamless tapestry rugs, 9 by 12 feet, good patterns and colors, especially good for bedroom use; regular $15—$12.50.

Panel Axminster rugs, handsome of effect, 7 1/2 by 10 1/2 feet, regular $12.50—$10. There is just a week for these squeezey prices to do their work. Be Quick!

A test made by the Lee Brothers Furniture Co. on South Main street during the last week with an enormous Whittall rug, which was spread on the sidewalk shows that 58,000 persons walked across the carpeted sidewalk in the course of one week's time. A committee of judges employed to decide upon the award for a prize for the nearest guess, including T. T. McElaney, E. C. Lynch and F. W. McFadden, 1007 Central avenue, 68,213 and Miss Elizabeth Boies, 191 Prospect street, who gave her guess as 61,000.
